Lucknow

Lucknow, the capital of Uttar Pradesh, India, is renowned for its rich history, cultural heritage, and architectural grandeur. Known as the "City of Nawabs," it reflects a blend of Mughal and Awadhi influences. The city boasts iconic landmarks such as the Bara Imambara, Chota Imambara, and the Rumi Darwaza. Its vibrant cuisine, featuring dishes like kebabs and biryanis, adds to its allure. Lucknow is also famous for its traditional arts, including embroidery and poetry, making it a cultural hub. With a warm and welcoming atmosphere, the city beautifully encapsulates the essence of Indian heritage and hospitality.

D. A. V. Degree College

DAV Degree College, Pt. Raas Bihari Tiwari Marg, Moti Nagar, Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh is one of the very old and prestigious College of Lucknow. It was established in July 1918 in Ganeshganj locality of old Lucknow as DAV College, by renowned and most popular social worker of that time Late Pandit Rhas Bihari Tiwari Ji, in the form of a Middle School.
